OUR MISSION

To see a Bible translation program in progress in every language still needing one by 2025.

OUR VISION

That God’s Word is accessible to all people in a language that speaks to their heart.
As one of the largest Scripture-translation organizations in the world, Wycliffe Bible Translators USA has helped people around the world to translate the Bible into their own languages for over 75 years.

From its beginning as William Cameron Townsend’s vision that all people would have access to Scripture, to what has become a global movement with thousands of translators, Wycliffe USA is committed to providing access to the Word of God so that all people can understand the message of God’s love in their own language.

Today at least 2,000 languages are still waiting for a Bible translation to begin, and Wycliffe USA is working faster than ever to reach those languages as soon as possible.
Dr. John Chesnut
President and CEO

John and his wife, Kelly, served in the pastorate for 13 years in the United States before joining Wycliffe Bible Translators USA in 2001. They are passionate about seeing God’s Word provided for communities in a language and form that best serves them.

The Chesnuts spent nine years in the Philippines where they served in a variety of leadership roles. John earned a Master of Divinity and a Doctor of Ministry from Denver Seminary. He serves as Wycliffe USA President/CEO. Kelly serves as the special assistant to the president and oversees Wycliffe USA’s organizational spiritual formation.

Dr. Chesnut and his wife have seven children through birth and adoption. They love the tapestry of nations God has woven together in their family.

Jennifer Holloran
Chief Operating Officer

Jennifer Holloran joined Wycliffe in 2002. Over the years, Jennifer rose in leadership in Wycliffe’s Human Resources department to serve as chief human resources officer. She serves the organization as chief operating officer, where she gets to combine her love of strategic leadership and her years of experience in human resources practices.

She holds a Master of Arts in Business Administration with a specialization in human resources from the University of Central Florida (UCF). She also holds a Bachelor of Arts in History from UCF.

Jennifer and her husband have two daughters.
The Bible is so much more than a book.

It’s God’s Word for mankind — a living testament of hope proclaiming his love and desire to redeem the people of the world through his son, Jesus. Scripture informs and empowers transformational change for a life of kingdom purpose and eternal significance.

But not everyone has access to this Good News.

Millions of people around the world don’t have a single word of the Bible in a language and form they can clearly understand. Wycliffe’s goal is to bring the hope of the gospel to the whole world so that one day people “from every nation and tribe and people and language” can worship God before his throne (Revelation 7:9, NLT).
WHERE WE WORK

Wycliffe USA and our strategic partners are currently working in 170 countries on over 2,600 language projects. These are the known remaining translation needs:
Bible translation is a transformational process. When people engage with Scripture — even in the translation process — God speaks to their hearts.

Wycliffe USA and our strategic partners are working together to bring God’s Word to those still waiting for Scripture in a language and form that they can clearly understand. That is, a language they may think in, dream in or pray in.

Together with our global partners, we come alongside people groups that desire to have Scripture that speaks to their hearts. We assist, equip and support these communities as they move their translation programs forward. As God’s Word is translated and becomes available, we partner with the community to help people engage Scripture through programs like literacy classes, trauma healing workshops and Bible studies.

We encourage individuals to become part of the Bible translation movement in several key ways:

» Join our prayer team.
